The Parkland shooting survivor David Hogg was forgotten for a while, but is now back in the news pushing back on the Capitol Hill insurrection. But this time, he is determined to put the My Pillow Guy out of business by creating his own pillow company.

> Mike the “my pillow guy” is commenting on his soon too be progressive competition in the form of a progressive pillow company @williamlegate and I are starting. Key parts of the company
> -Union made in America to create good jobs that support American families.
> -Have an emphasis on supporting progressive causes
>
> -Not attempt a white supremacist overthrow of the United States government
> So you can sleep at night

And they accuse conservatives, correctly, of being giant trolls? If this company ever comes to fruition, there is a guarantee there will be some scandal involving paying employees a living wage or similar. I don’t hope for that but the left is not exactly good at economic justice. But it is interesting that for all the talk of overthrowing capitalism, leftism needs corporations because without them, there is no left. You can either have economic sanity or you can have leftism, but not both. Now look, I don’t care if Lindell goes out of business; in fact, I would prefer it so he doesn't have a microphone to say stupid shit all day. But that isn't the point. The point is that the left no longer stands for anything, it merely opposes Literally Hitler™; and to be fair, the right is no better.
